

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. William Palmer, esq., buried in Westminster Abbey, Aug. 6, 1652. He was eldest son of Sir Thomas Palmer, knight, by Dorothy, daughter of Thos. Malet, of Enmore. He died s.p.

THOMAS PALMER, of Fairfield, Somerset. Will dated July 25, 1733, proved June 13, 1735, by Elizabeth Palmer the relict, the Exors in Trust renouncing. [130 Ducie.] If I die in Somerset, to be buried in the Church of Stoke Courci, in the night. Funeral not to exceed £50. To my brother Peregrine Palmer, £50, & all arrears from Hadworthy in North Petherton, from Moorhouse in Kilton, & Holbrokes in North Petherton, & leasehold estates of the same, as held from M^r Luttrell & the heirs of the Blewitts. To my brother Peregrine Palmer, Sir William Wyndham, Bar^t, & Peter Davis, of Wells, esq., £1,500 in Trust, the interest for my sister Ann Palmer.² To my brother & sister Acland, assigned by Deed, £6,000, interest thereof to be divided among my four eldest sisters. My friends John Cole, of Baygrove, Leicestershire, Marmaduke Allington, of Lincoln's Inn, esq., & John Millner, of Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, esq., Exors in trust of all my lands, &c., 30 guineas to each. I have given my dear wife more than her due, & therefore let no one blame me if, in so doing, I have put an end to my own family. The provision I have made for my brothers & sisters is more than I would have done from my own estate, if I had not been assisted by her fortune. All her estate is by deed, settled on me & my heirs for ever. In case I survive her, I think myself in conscience obliged to make her the best return I can, which is to give her the entire possession of an estate redeemed by her own generosity. What I do is from myself, without the knowledge of any person whatsoever. Codicil, Sep. 3, 1734. Some small sums of money due to me from M^r John Malet & Charles Catford, they not to be called upon to repay these. Codicil, Sep. 4, 1734. That the calamitous illness, which I have been so long afflicted with, & to which all the persons I have applied to have neither been able to find the cause or the cure, may after my death be of use to some other unhappy persons who may be in the same condition, & may be helped by the knowledge, I direct my body to be opened in the presence of Dr Anderdon, of Bridgewater, M^r Lucas, of Wells, & M^r Good, who attended me in my last illness. My Coffin to be enclosed in lead. No funeral Sermon or escutcheons. My dearest Betty,³ by all the love that has been between us, not to hinder my last request. Six of the watchmen to carry me to the grave. (Affidavit by Peregrine Palmer to the handwriting.)
